

Fig. 2.6. The influence of the Choctawhatchee River on salinity. February-April 1987 was a period characterized by high river flow and reduced salinity throughout the Bay; September-November 1985 is typical of a low river input, high salinity period. Source: Orlando et al. 1993.